Special Credits should be given to my brother, Delamere and my niece Diana (Healy) Ford.

Also to all my cousins who so willing responded to the special questionnaire and the special notes they wrote about their parents, a very special thank you.

Also a special thanks to my husband, Russell who so patiently drove me every place I needed to go to compile this book.

Healy

This family is a very ancient one, and is of Devonshire. The English Genealogical Histories of Ancient and Distinguished families gives a full and detailed account of the ancestors of the Healy family.

In English records the name is variously written as Hele, Heale, Hela, Healey, Heeley and Healy. All doubtless have a common ancestor. No less than five English Post Offices bear the name of the family. Scattered over the Kingdom are decendants of position and wealth, some of whom occupy ancestral estates and are allied to English Aristocracy.

Says Prince of his Worthies of Deven Writing, "There was Hele of Hele in the Parish of Bradninch, eight miles to the north of Exeter. Here lived Bartholomew dela Hele so far back as the day of King Henry II whose reign began in October 23, 1154 A.D. From him decended Roger I Hele, next Sir Roger II Hele, Kt. and then Sir Roger III his son; Roger IV Hele, Roger V Hele, and William VI Hele. William VI Hele had two sons, Nicholas VII Hele and Roger VII Hele. The line of Nicholas ended with his daughter Alice, but Roger VII Hele was the progenitor of all the families of Hele in the South part of the Country. Roger VII Hele was taken prisoner in Scotland in 1401 A.D. while on an expedition of feudal peers under Henry V to force the Scots to do homage to the crown.

Hugh Hele, a descendant settled in Cornwood and is the ancestor of the Heles of that place."

Burke's Extinct and Dormant Baronetcies of England states, "Hele, Heale, or Healy a manor in the parish of Bradninch in the Hundred of Harridge in the North of Devon from the earliest time of which any record exists, and is presumed, from long before the conquest was in the possession of the family which had its dwelling there and gave its name. Of this very ancient family, fruitful as the County of Devon is known to have been in distinguished houses, it may with truth be stated that it was one of the most eminent, the most widely spread, and the most affluent which even the quarter of England could boast."

There are many books in existence that cover the history of the Healy Family. Perhaps someone in the future would like to study and investigate it more. But, I shall start in America.

William Hele

1613-1683

William Hele Family

William Hele Was born about 1613 in Cornwood Parish, Devonshire England. He came over to Massachusetts under the auspices of the Plymouth Bay Company of which Sir Warwick Heley of Newbury, near Plymouth, England, was an influential member. He came first to Lynn, Massachusetts about 1640 where he early joined the church: became a freeman in Marshfield in 1643: was of Roxbury in 1649, and finally was dismissed from the church in Lynn to join that in Cambridge with his family. There he settled "upon the rocks", apparently the rocky ridge upon which Harvard Observatory now stands. A street in this area is still called Healy Street.

He was an esteemed citizen, a church member, a land holder, and prison keeper for ten years from 1672 to 1682. At the age of seventy years he was charged with a misdemeanor. Fabricated accusations prompted by jealousy or vindictiveness were not uncommon in the Colonies between 1656 and 1692 A.D. He died within a year on November 28, 1683 and his remains lie in "The Old Burying Ground" in Cambridge.

William Hele born 1613 in Cornwood Parish, Devonshire England; died November 28, 1683. He married five times, each time after the death of a wife.

married Grace Ives, who died in Roxbury, November 8, 1649.

Children:

Hannah Hele, baptized July 7, 1644

Samuel Hele, baptized July 14, 1645; died January 15, 1646

Elizabeth Hele, born November 9, 1647

married Mary Rogers who died in 1653.

Children:

Sarah Hele, baptized February 2, 1650

William Hele, baptized July 11, 1652

married Grace Butterice, at Cambridge on October 14, 1653, born 1634, died 1661.

Children:

Grace Hele, baptized about 1654

Mary Hele, born November 4, 1657, died November 27, 1657

Nathaniel Hele, baptized February 6, 1659

Martha Hele, baptized September 9, 1660

married Phebe Green, daughter of Bartholemew Green of Cambridge on August 15, 1661. Her brothers were among the first printers in the country.

They operated the Harvard University Press, one of the first printing outfits brought to the colonies. She died by 1677.

Second Generation of Healys in America

Paul Healy

1664-1718

Paul Healy Family

Paul Healy, Son of William and Phebe Green Hele, born April 3, 1664 at Cambridge, Massachusetts. He died March 12, 1718 in Rehoboth, Massachusetts in the part now called Rumford. He married Elizabeth about 1695. She was probably from New Hampshire, as the History of Hampton, N.H. says, "Paul Healy served for Hampton in the King William Indian Wars of 1689 and later." It is easy to account for his being in Hampton (Of which Hampton Falls was originally a part) as his older half-brother William resided there for a while, and that is where his father's fifth wife, Widow Sarah Brown, was from. Paul settled early in Rehoboth, Massachusetts where his eleven sons and three daughters were born.

Ebenezer Healy

1707-1777

Ebenezer Healy Family

Ebenezer Healy, Son of Paul and Elizabeth Healy was born in 1707 at Rehoboth, Massachusetts. He married Rachel ---, and then Grace Bullen (Boleyn). He died February 14, 1777 at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. He lived in the Clapboard Trees Parish, the third or West Parish of Dedham, in 1730. Clapboards were furnished from this territory, which gave it the name of Clapboard Trees Parish. About 1729 Ebenezer Healy was one of the seven petitioners of the General Court that petitioned that the south precinct of Dedham be set off as a District Precinct. This was done in 1730 and the township of Norwood was established. At a town meeting on October 22, 1730 Ebenezer Healy was appointed Assessor. At a second meeting on the ninth of November of that year it was voted to build a meeting house 40 x 36 feet and Ebenezer was appointed on a building committee of five and instructed to procure a frame. One hundred pounds was voted for this project. The records say that Rachel, wife of Ebenezer Healy, joined the church at Norwood on the 4th of July, 1742 and that his children Moses, Mary, Abigail, Eunice and Lucy were baptized on that same day.

In 1758, after the expulsion of the Arcadians from Nova Scotia, a proclamation by Governor Lawrence was received from Halifax inviting New Englanders and other colonists to come and take up grants of land for colonization. One year later another proclamation was issued giving all Protestants the right to worship as they pleased. Planters in New England, having several sons, found their farms too small to be divided among them. Free land in New England had become scarce, hence the offer of cleared and fertile land in Nova Scotia was attractive and started a migration from many points. In 1762 Ebenezer and a second wife, Grace Bullen or Boleyn went to Chebogue, Nova Scotia with seven children. They settled at Shurtliffe Point. The Director of Crown Lands, Halifax finds "the name of Ebenezer Healy in Yarmouth Township along with other Grantees from New England." He was granted 1097 acres of land at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. He was listed among the families who first settled upon the shores of the Chebogue River and the eastern shores of Yarmouth Sound. They founded and sustained the maritime industry of the Port of Yarmouth. It speaks of Ebenezer Healy as himself no less distinguished for untiring industry than for the uniform courtesy and good nature with which he fulfilled the duties of a neighbor and a citizen.

Fourth Generation of Healys in America

John Healy

1773-1840

John Healy Family

John Healy, Son of Ebenezer and Grace Bullen Healy, born 1773 at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. He moved early to Granville, Nova Scotia. History books tell us that he was involved in the fishing industry with his first wife's family. In 1810 there was a dispute over the fishery. It states, "In January of 1810 John Healy, a yoeman of Granville, petitioned Sir George Prevost, then Lieutenant Governor, concerning the herring fishery on Goat Island. The bar, which John Healy at enormous expense, built a weir upon the same, it being deemed by every other person a speculation too hazardous to attempt. Its success, however excited attention, and those who were adverse to the risk would now grasp the profit of it." The government ruled against him. It is believed there were politics involved. He and his four associates were sons of American Colonists, while the Morrison Family were established Canadians. In the records you find where John Healy pledged his allegiance to the Crown. It later stated that John Healy was a son of pre-loyalist of 1760-65 and men of excellent standing in the community, having been as remarkable for their enterprise as for their industry. They continued to run the fishery, but the government kept control. He died June 10, 1840 and is buried in the Stony Beach Burying Grounds at Granville, Nova Scotia.

Fifth Generation of Healys in America

Anderson Healy

1819-1884

Anderson Healy Family

Anderson Healy, Son of John and Sarah Anderson Healy, born January 17, 1819 in Granville, Nova Scotia. He married Mary Delamere, note the difference in the spelling. We found both spellings, Delamere and Dellimer, in the churchyard cemetery just east of Granville, Nova Scotia. They were married December 15, 1842. Mary Delamere was born in Armagh, Ireland on November 12, 1824. However her ancestors came from France and came to Ireland during the French Revolution in 1792. She crossed over from Ireland to St. John, New Brunswick and thence to Nova Scotia with her parents in 1830. After their marriage they lived in Granville, Nova Scotia for fourteen years. They came to upper Canada in 1857 and lived in Springford, South Norwich Township, Oxford County, Ontario where they lived for 19 years; then moved to Dawn Township, Lambton County, Ontario. Anderson Healy died May 2, 1884. These are the words Mr. Bine spoke from when Grandfather Healy was buried, "But thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" - Ist Corinthians, 15th chapter, 57th verse, according to a record dictated by his wife, Mary Delamere on April 3, 1896. She died September 9, 1896. I have included the following document as it gives some family history of her ancestors.

Sixth Generation of Healys in America

John Henry Healy

1844-1928

John Henry Healy Family

John Henry Healy, Son of Anderson and Mary Delamere Healy was born January 17, 1844 in Granville, Nova Scotia. He moved with his parents to the County of Oxford, Ontario. He met his first wife, Martha J. White who lived in that area. They married October 14, 1867 at Belmont, Ontario. The young couple lived on a farm and had two little boys, Welcome and Arthur. But tragedy struck, Martha died in a fire in April of 1879, and he was left a widower with two small children. He took his older son, Welcome and struck out to make a new life in the lumbering area in Michigan. The baby Arthur was left with an aunt.

He met Clarissa Johnson who was born August 7, 1867 and married her October 29, 1882 at AuSable, Michigan. He settled in a village called Lott. It was really a stopping station for the lumber train. He was an enterprising gentleman. He built a log cabin and cleared the land. With a little capital he started a local country store which carried everything from flour and spices to harnesses and horse collars. He also secured the right to have the first post office in the area. Mrs. Eli Barker was Assistant Post Master according to the records.

I remember very little about the gentleman except he used to say "tut, tut" when I was doing something wrong. However he must have been an all right person to see that all his daughters went to school and became teachers.

The second home he built is historic as it was the first one in Curtis Township, Alcona County to be built with a foundation and Michigan basement. He was ahead of his time as he also had a bathroom upstairs with a chemical toilet.

One fourth mile west of the intersection of State Highway 65 and Lilley County Road on the north side of the highway stands the Healy Homestead. It had a kitchen, dining room, parlor, pantry, and two bedrooms downstairs, and five bedrooms upstairs. What stories that old house could tell of a home filled with children and chatter. He maintained a large orchard of apples, plums, pears and cherries.

They were a church going family and attended the Baptist Church. He donated the land on which Lott Baptist Church is built. Next to the church was the Lott School where the children attended and some later taught there. With his sons he also tilled the land.

Clarissa, his wife, died in April of 1925. He finally went to Detroit and lived his last years with his son, Welcome. John Healy died on November 29, 1928.

Seventh Generation of Healys

Chapter I

Welcome Healy

1874-1945

Welcome Healy Family

Welcome Healy was born in Canada in 1874, the son of Martha J. White and John Henry Healy. While visiting in Minnesota, Grandma Martha Healy died from a house fire leaving two young sons, Welcome and Arthur. The youngest being Arthur. Her last wishes were that Arthur be raised by an Aunt.

Grandfather John Henry Healy along with my Dad, Welcome came to Michigan and settled in Lott where John met and married Clarissa Johnson, and raised a family of which Welcome was a part, until he reached manhood and married Mary Snook in Canada on October 19, 1899.

As a child when anyone would say to me "your Welcome," I'd say "Oh no, I'm not, Dad is."

Welcome and Mary made their home in Rose City and farmed there for twenty years. Dad also walked thirteen miles to work at the Heading Mill. He served as Township treasurer for awhile.

To this union was born four children; the eldest being Rena Healy, who died at the age of sixteen in 1918, after World War One, just before her graduation.

The next born was a son Dwight Allen Healy. He was born in 1904 at Rose City and died in Detroit on February 8, 1943 at the age of thirty-nine.

Another son, John Dale was born March 26, 1914 in Rose City and died January 31, 1959 at the age of forty-five Years later after leaving the farm, Welcome moved to Detroit, Michigan and opened up a store and ice cream parlor. He later was a Real Estate Broker and sold automobile insurance. One of my Dad's competitors once told him he would never make any money because he was too honest, which he was. He was an honest, caring and loving person and father.

It was in Detroit that a daughter, Violet Eileen Healy, was born to Welcome and Mary on March 19, 1923. When I was approximately nine years old we moved to Glennie, Michigan. This was during the bad depression years. During the next ten years we would make several moves from Glennie to Detroit.

We always kept in touch with Uncle Arthur and family. As a child I always got a thrill going through the Windsor Tunnel or over the Bridge to visit Uncle Arthur and Aunt Florence.

We would always celebrate Thanksgiving with them in Canada. Their thanksgiving was earlier than ours and in return they would come to our home for our Thanksgiving.

My father, Welcome, passed away three days after my birthday. He died on March 22, 1945 and is still sadly missed. Written by Violet (Healy) Harger.

Seventh Generation - Chapter I

Seventh Generation of Healys

Chapter II

Arther Anderson Healy

1878-1964

Arther Anderson Healy Family

From the Diary of Florence Healy, Wife of Arthur Anderson Healy:

"We spent our first Christmas after we were married at Uncle D.D. Healy's and also the New Years. Our second Christmas at the home on Gorge Road and Lizzie was there. Our third Christmas at Uncle D.D.'s and Uncle Ebon and Blanche were there. Our fourth Christmas at home and Pa and Jimmie (my relatives) were there.

We were married on the eleventh day of September, 1901, and went to live on the J.M. Saunder's place (farm) on Gorge Road. We lived there until the spring of 1904 when we moved to Jacob Stover's at Rock Mills, Norwich. We only lived there from March 1904 to November 1904, when we moved to the Bainard Farm, Edgeware, Road, St. Thomas.

Arthur Lorne, our oldest son, was born while we lived on the J.M. Saunder's farm. He was born at Uncle D.D.'s on the eleventh day of May, 1903. James Russell was born on Feburary 26, 1905 at St. Thomas."

In the Diaries she states that:

"On October 17, 1925, Art's Dad, John visited for a week, on the occasion of the fiftieth Anniversary of Uncle Doss (Dawson, brother of John Henry Healy) and Aunt Millie, October 25, 1925 at Eden, Ontario.

On November 18, 1928 Uncle Doss was 77 years old.

On November 25, 1928 Art's father, John Henry Healy died. Buried in Glennie, Michigan.

June 9-14, 1933 The Healys from Canada visited the Healys in Michigan.

On October 9, 1960 The Canadian Healys visited the American Healys at Lloyd and Grace Sturks in Flint, Michigan. (Lloyd, Edna and two girls;, Gladys and Harvey with Clint and Kathleen and Mary Lou; Also Russell's wife, Dorothy, from Peterborough, Ontario.

On July 14, 1937 Ebenezer Healy died in Calgary, Alberta.

On May 17, 1924 Arthur bought his first car, a McLaughlin 4.

In 1929 Gladys graduated as a R.N. in London, Ontario."

History as sent by Lloyd and Edna Healy, a son and daughter-in-law:

A Martha Simmons was the wife of Sanford White. Sanford White had a sister Martha White who married John Henry Healy and became the mother of Welcome and Arthur Anderson Healy and two small children who died. (Probably at birth.)

Sanford White and his wife Martha of Tillsongurg, Ontario raised Arthur after the death of Arthur's mother. Arhtur's mother, Martha Healy, died as a result of a fire in a home she was visiting in Minnesota. He was seven months old at the time. It was the dying wish of his mother that her sister raise him. Thus, the reason for him being raised in Canada and separated from his father and brother. Arthur's brother, Welcome, lived with his father in Michigan. Arthur did not meet him for many years. In fact the diary says November 28, 1917. (18 years later.)

The Healys sold produce from the farms they lived on around Tillsonburg, and sold cords of wood. Later Arthur had a small dairy in Tillsonburg from which they sold milk.

In the 1930's he worked for the Silverwood Dairies in Windsor until the summer of 1945. He retired and bought a small farm in the village of Mt. Brydges, (west of London, Ontario). They lived there until their deaths in 1964. He died in the spring and she died in the fall.

Arthur and Florence were well liked in the communities where they spent their lives with their five children. They often had great family reunions when these children came home for visits. She was an exceptionally good cook and seamstress.

Both Gladys and Lloyd were given a parlor chair which belonged to Arthur. These were given to him by the Whites when he married.

Arthur and Florence used the second name of each of their children instead of the first, a bit of a nuisance for legal papers.

Chapter III

Clarence Edgar Healy

1883-1974

Clarence Edgar Healy Family

My father, Clarence E. Healy was born August 11, 1883, the first child of John and Clarissa Healy in the little community of Lott a few miles east of Glennie.

He attended the Lott School and I think finished grade eight. From then on he helped with the farming and clearing of the land.

Sometime during his twenty-first year he met Florence Cornelia Cumming. He probably met her on a trip to Harrisville, the county seat, about 30 miles from Lott. In those days that was a big trip. Grandfather and Grandmother Cumming lived on the main highway to Harrisville, and theirs was one of the homes where people traveling east, from the western part of the county, would stay to rest their horses, have a meal, do some visiting and quite often spend the night. On their way home, they would stop back with the news from the city. I'm sure Dad must have made the trip with his father and met the tall blond Cumming girl. Dad always admired tall women. So for the next couple of years he looked for all kinds of excuses to visit the Klondyke settlement. During that time Dad was busy helping his Dad and clearing his own little piece of land; and there was lumber to get ready for a house.

Finally on August 11, 1906, Dad and Mom were married. The same day fire destroyed their lumber. It took another year to get more lumber and build the house. They lived with Dad's parents and the younger children till the house was ready, a big family as Mom told it.

Two or three years later they sold the farm to Grandfather Healy and moved to another, three miles west of Mikado. My brother, Milford and I were born and grew up there. Dad was Treasurer of the Klondyke School District for years. The folks spent a short time in Detroit, Dad working in the factory, but the depression came so it was back to the farm that was home.

They sold the farm in 1946 and moved to Harrisville to retire. But Dad had to keep busy so he gardened and helped out at Jensen and Healy Buick Sales for a few years.

Mom passed away October 27, 1968 and Dad lived to the ripe old age of 90. He died April 20, 1974.

Mary Elizabeth "Mae" Healy Conklin

1884-1962

Mary Elizabeth "Mae" Healy Conklin Family

Mary Elizabeth Healy, better known to the Healy Clan as Aunt Mae, was born in Lott, Michigan. She was the second child of John Henry Healy and Clarissa Johnson Healy. She attended the Lott School probably through the eighth grade. She went to Ypsilanti State Normal and received her teaching certificate. She like her sisters after her taught in rural schools in the area.

She probably met Roy Conklin on her many visits to Grandmother Conklin's house in AuSable, Michigan. Roy was Grandmother's stepson. They were married on November 27, 1907. Soon after that they moved to Onaway, Michigan where their son, Bill, was born.

Later they moved to Flint. But after a few years it was back to Onaway to be with their many friends in their later years. She and Uncle Roy were a joy to be with at the family reunions. She had a cheerful, loving personality.

Aunt Mae passed away May 12, 1962 and Uncle Roy died a few years later.

Chapter V

Lawrence Henry Healy

1886-1951

Lawrence Henry Healy

In Memory of Lawrence Healy

(Presented by his family at the Healy Family Reunion at Glennie Hall, on August 30, 1983.)

On April 24, 1886
John and Clarissa Healy were blessed with a boy.
Lawrence Henry they named him.
He was a joy.
A sturdy lad, did things boys do
Fished, hunted, and went to school.
He plowed the fields and milked the cows,
Gathered the eggs and fed the sows.
He worked in the lumber camps they say,
Cooked for the men, fed horses hay.
His horse and wagon made the rounds
For all the children in the town.
To take them to their local school
Where they were taught the golden rule.
Then as young men usually do
Spied his Susie and began to woo.
February 2nd was their wedding day
When "I do" they were heard to say.
They bought forty acres of land
Then with hopes and dreams they'd plan
Their life together in the Healy Clan.

Their first child was a girl
They named her Grace.
She was a darling, with a little round face.
Lois was their second child.
She always laughed and made them smile.
They had a third, she was a girl.
Carrie they named her; she was their pearl.
The fourth little baby brought much joy.
Merle they called him, T'was their first boy.

Lawrence wanted a second son
His buttons popped when he had one.

Lyle was the given name
For the little boy who came.
The next three babies, Buelah, Iva and Bea
Were the last to be added to the family tree.

They stayed in Glennie and worked the farm
Tried to keep the children free from harm.
With so many mouths to feed,
They soon found out that they would need
Another job, so off they went;
To a booming town called Flint.
Then hard times came, depression struck
And all their plans had run amuck.
They left the city, to the farm did go
With plows and planters the crops did sow.

The children had left them one by one.
First the daughters, then the sons.
They had 29 grandchildren to bring them joy;
Fourteen girls and fifteen boys.
We have our memories, some bad and some good.
But Dad always taught us that we should
Be completely honest in all we do
So people could depend on you.
He taught us never to be late.
It was wrong to make the people wait.
Do not drink, smoke or swear
Show the world that you care.
Our lives were saddened one March day
When Lois our sister was taken away.
But we will all meet again someday.

Lawrence and Susie were both called home
The children were all left to roam.
But in July they all plan
To join the reunion of the Healy Clan.
Lawrence died without wealth or fame
Only children to carry his nane.
So we set aside this day
To honor him and homage pay.

And to remember events back then
And maybe wish to be kids again.

Charlotte Almira "Allie" Healy Farrar

1887-1926

Charlotte Almira "Allie" Healy Farrar Family

Charlotte Almira Healy Farrar, called Allie, was born in Lott, Michigan on September 9, 1887. She lived and worked on the family farm and at the store. She attended the old Lott Log School. She went to Ypsilanti State Normal to get her teaching certificate. She taught in the original Pine Grove School in Caledonia Township (Spruce) Alcona County, Michigan. While living there she boarded at the Farrar Home. It was there, that she met her husband Herbert Farrar. She taught there two years. They were married on November 6. She also taught one year in Osineke.

Uncle Herb was a photographer and went around the area taking pictures. After they were married he settled down to farming. They both belonged to the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints. They had seven children: Earnest, Clarence, Melvin, Irvin, Russell, Ward and Pearl.

Tragedy struck the family. Allie had a Gall Bladder operation. Two weeks later she had another attack and died June 30, 1926. Two years later her husband, Herbert died of Consumption according to his death certificate. The children stayed with relatives and finally scattered. Only two survive today, the oldest, Earnest and the youngest, Pearl. (May, 1984.)

Chapter VII

Melvina Cordelia "Vina" Healy Rushman Ginder

1890-1980

Melvina Cordelia "Vina" Healy Rushman Ginder Family

(As written by her two sons, Warren and Glenn.)

Mother was born in Glennie, (Lott) Michigan on September 9, 1890. She attended grade school there. Then she went to Harrisville to high school and later to Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Michigan to obtain her teacher's certificate. She began teaching at about 18 years old. She taught school several years in Glennie, Curtisville and South Branch. During the summer vacations away from teaching she often went to Hubbard Lake to stay with Aunt Allie and Uncle Herb Farrar. She obtained a teaching position in Killmaster, Gastin Township, Alcona County, Michigan. Mother boarded with the Rushman family while teaching in Killmaster. Their house was a short distance east of the village. It was during this time she met and married our father. Before their marriage Dad farmed in the summer time and worked in lumber camps during the winter season. After they were married he farmed full time. Shortly after the marriage they built a house of their own where the family farm is today.

When Dad died in 1931, Mother was left with four children ages 7, 10, 11, and 12 and a farm with a mortgage! Times were lean for the next four years, but above everything Mother worked to get us through high school. She had a strong personality with an awareness of the value of education for the children. She always wanted her kids to do better.

She married John F. Ginder in 1935. After the war they sold the farm and made their home in Flint, where John worked at Buick Motors.

She loved traveling and with the improvement in the economy of the country she was able to fulfill her dreams. She and John Ginder visited all the 48 'lower' States' and the provinces of Canada, from New Brunswick on the Atlantic. to British Columbia on the shores of the Pacific, with a side trip into Cuba. When she was seventy-five, she and her son, Fr. John took a trip to Ireland, Switzerland and Central Europe. During their travels in the United States some of the grandchildren went with them.

Mother won an award from the Red Cross for donating over 25 years of volunteer service to Hurley Hospital. She was very proud and happy when our brother, John was ordained a priest in June of 1955. I think Mother's philosophy of life was "With hard work things could be made better."

During her last years, when she was blind and living in a nursing home, Mother often used to comment on how happy and thankful she was for a lot of pleasant memories.

She died November 11, 1980 at Rogers City, Michigan.

Chapter VIII

George Albert Healy

1892-1968

George Albert Healy Family

George Albert Healy, Known as Albert, was born May 2, 1892 in a lumbering village called Lott, Curtis Township, Alcona County, Michigan. It was three miles south of Glennie, Michigan. There was a church, school, store, post office and a branch railroad station for lumbering.

He grew up with his sisters, brothers and parents on a farm on the north west corner of what is now known as State Road (M. 65 Highway) and Lilley Road. His parents owned the general store and post office. His early years were spent helping on the farm.

He attended Lott School, but only in the winter. He loved it, but never went beyond the eighth grade. He would work during the planting and harvesting seasons but returned to school in the winter to be with his friends. Dad used to love to reminisce. He would tell of the parties they used to have: sleigh rides with the horses, taffy pulls, riding in the fancy buggy, and the family song fests. What good times they must have had. He was very proud of the characters he played in the local playhouse in Glennie. He would often repeat the parts he used to have, and the recitations he used to give. He was especially fond of the play, "Ten Nights in the Bar Room." People came from all over the township to see the local talent.

He left Glennie at nineteen with several other local young men and went to Detroit to seek his fortune. However, according to one of his friends, Lott Paul, he was so lonesome for his sweetheart, Mary DeCoste, that he returned to Glennie. They were married May 3, 1913 in Harrisville, Michigan. First Albert and Mary lived in the old Deacon Place, which later was owned by Bill Blake. It was located on the north east corner of the intersection of M. 65 Highway and Lilley Road, across from Albert's parents. Here their first son, Delamere, was born on September 6, 1914. Shortly thereafter, they acquired a farm, the back forty acres of Albert's parent's land. It needed to be cleared of stumps that the lumbermen had left when they cut down the virgin timber. The white pine stumps were two feet to four feet in diameter. It was a big task. Here in their new home, on November 23, 1916, a second bundle of joy arrived. It was kicking and screaming, blessed with red hair, and had a surplus of energy. They named this second son, Gerald Eugene Healy.

In 1919, they moved to Hale Michigan where they and Mary's parents, the William DeCoste Family, became overseers of the Bilby Ranch. While there another red head arrived, their daughter, Wilma Beatrice Healy, born May 5, 1920. The Bilby Ranch was sold and both families returned to Lott, Michigan and their respective farms.

Albert needed more land and purchased forty acres located across the creek from his property. I believe a good deal was worked out as Mr. Curtis, who owned the land, was a long time friend of the families. Due to Hay Fever, Mr. Curtis spent very little of his time in Glennie.

After struggling a few years, they heard of the industrial boom in Flint, Michigan. In 1927 they decided to move. They bought property in Flint and built a house at 747 Pierson Road. It was a little garage house, but it seemed like a palace. It had electric lights and running water and a gas stove. Albert and Mary both worked and life was good to them. They bought Albert's parents old homestead in Lott from Uncle Welcome.

Then the depression hit and everything went wrong. They sold their home in Flint at a loss. Mary and her daughter, Wilma returned to Glennie, Michigan. Albert rented a small house and stayed in Flint because Delamere and Gerald were in High School and he felt it was important for them to finish their education. The sale of the house in Flint fell through and Delamere and Gerald moved back to their home at 747 Pierson Road. Dad went to the farm and left the boys to finish high school. Aunt Violet and Uncle Edwin kept an eye out for them. Aunt Violet did their laundry to keep them looking respectable. Believe me, our Aunt Violet was a real jewel.

After returning to the farm, Albert lived there and farmed his land off and on for the rest of his life, except for a breif time during World War II when he worked for an auto factory in Detroit.

Albert was very active in the Lott Baptist Church. His parents had donated the property for it. He was Deacon in the church and it was a big part of his life. He was Sunday School Superintendent and led the singing. He was happiest when he was singing or whistling a hymn. His favorite was "The Old Rugged Cross". Ministers were always welcome in our home for dinner and several lived with us.

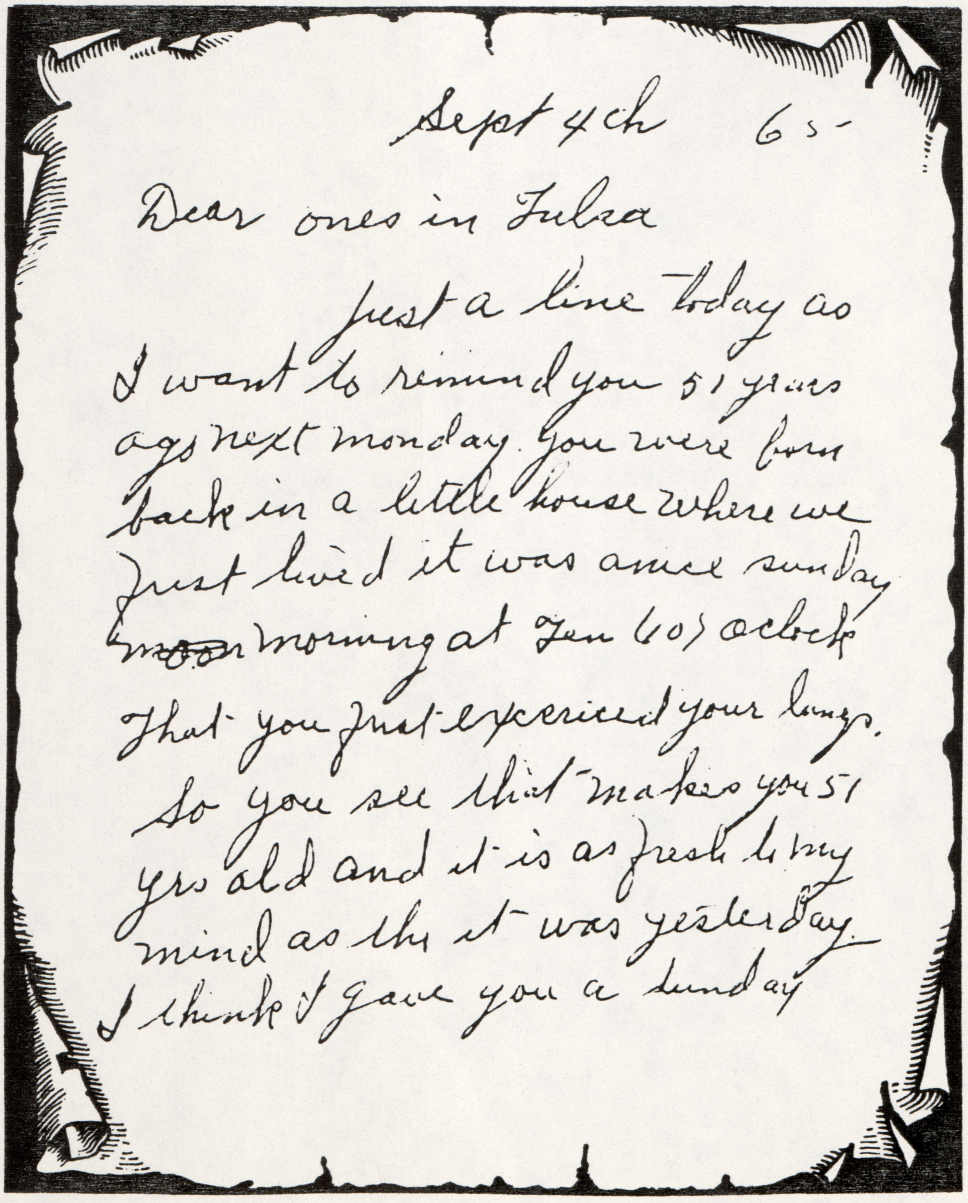
In later years, he went to Edgewater, Florida every winter. Mary died in Florida on April 4, 1963, one month before their 50th wedding anniversary. He came home and sold the old homestead.

He married Mae Dear in December of 1964.

He died in Alpena Hospital, October 14, 1968. He is buried in Glennie Cemetary on the family plot beside his wife, Mary.

Albert Healy sent the following letter to his son Delamer Healy in September of 1965. Delamere was born on September 6, 1914.



Sept 4th 65-

Dear ones in Tulsa

Just a line today as I want to remind you 51 years ago next monday. You were born back in a little house where we just lived it was once sunday ~~noon~~ morning at ten (10) o'clock that you just exercised your lungs. So you see that makes you 51 yrs old and it is as fresh in my mind as tho it was yesterday. I think I gave you a sunday school pin I got that year for going without missing a sunday I just miss the one sunday and that was Sept 6th 1914

So Happy Birthday Son and May you enjoy anither 51 years. And may they all be Happy ones and Prosprous ones We are looking for Velma & Russ up today but it is twelve (12) O'clock and they are not here yet so I dont know if I was out and picked some black berries for her yesterday so I hope she comes. I am feeling pritty good. well this is short but will try and write a letter over the week end so

By for now

Love Dad

Russell Oliver Kenyon's
47 years in
The George Albert Healy Family

I married Wilma Beatrice Healy on July 4, 1940 in Elizabethtown, Kentucky. We were married by a Methodist minister.

I was introduced to Wilma Healy by my cousin, Meryl Healy, in the summer of 1939. Wilma was teaching at the Lott School in Glennie. The Lott School was a one room school consisting of grades one through six. The school had no inside plumbing whatsoever. The school was located next to her father's farm and Albert Healy was the school's janitor.

One weekend, I came up north to visit the family only to find them in the middle of a major catastrophe at school. It seems the boys had put a snake in the girls outside toilet. This required immediate attention and of course severe punishment for the boys. Notes were sent home and the fathers of the offending children were to come to the school the very next day for a conference.

My sisters and brothers all attended the Lott School while Wilma taught there. Most of the local families; the Websters, the Lilly's, the Friend's, the Beck's, the Body's, the Garrett's and the Ross' sent their children to the Lott School during this time.

Albert and Mary Healy's farming at that time was a full time operation. Not only were they farming 160 acres of prime farm land , they were milking 10 cows, had a team of horses, 2 sow, each with a litter of piglets . This farm was purchased from his step-brother who had inherited it from his father.

Delamere Healy, the oldest son was married and teaching in a one room school house in Deckerville, Michigan, a small town in the thumb. He had two daughters, Dorothy Jean and Diane, who were two and four at the time I married Wilma. Delamere now lives in Tulsa Oklahoma. His daughters, both married, also live close to him in Oklahoma. Dorothy Jean is a registered nurse and has no children and Diane, who is a school teacher, has two children, a son and a daughter.

Gerald Healy and his wife Joanne had been married but as yet had no children. Eventually his family grew to three sons and a daughter. Janice his oldest now lives on the outskirts of Detroit and is a grandmother by her daughter who lives in Battle Creek. Janice's brothers are Kenneth, Grant and Brian. The youngest is currently a doctor in Kansas City, Kansas. Both Gerald and Joanne have passed away.

Wilma and I have two sons, Russell Jr. and Darrell. Wilma recieved her Bachelor's Degree as well as her Masters Degree from Eastern Michigan University and taught at the Willow Run School during her college days. Her teaching career covered almost four decades. She retired from teaching in Ypsilanti, Michigan. She passed away on November 26, 1986. Her two sons have followed in her footsteps as teachers. Russell Jr. is teaching sixth grade in Ypsilanti and Darrell is teaching High School in Romulus.

Russell and his wife Maealyce have two children; Heath, 13, and Kirsten ,who is 11. Mae is an LPN II at St Joseph Mercy Hospitals in Ann Arbor and is presently working toward her RN degree.

Darrell and his wife Judy also have two children, a son, Jonathan ,12 and a daughter Heather who is 10. Judy has returned to school for a career in accounting.

Wilma and I traveled very extensively. We have been to the west coast twice; Disney World and Yelowstone Park three times. We saw the Seattle Worlds Fair and visited Victoria in Canada. We went to Alaska by road and took the inland water way back down through Canada to Prince Rupert, Edmonton and Winnepeg. We also traveled through the Eastern Providence of Novia Scotia. We visited World Fairs whenever we had the oppertunity seeing the one in Montreal and the one in New York twice. We traveled abroad later in life after the children were gone. We visited South America, England twice, Italy, France, Holland, Australia and New Zealand. She made her second trip to England and Scotland in May before her death. She was appointed a Grand Representative to the State of Pennsylvania by the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star of Michigan and her last trip was to Pennsylvania in June of 1986.

I have attended the funerals of Albert's brother Clarence Healy and his wife, his sisters funeral in Alpena, and his sons and his wifes funerals in Sandusky, Ohio.

It has been a very interesting and fascinating and of course try at time LIFE IN THE HEALY FAMILY.

In Memory of Albert Healy

Given by his daughter at the Healy Reunion at the Glennie Hall in July of 1982

I've been asked by President Bob
To tell this tale to you,
Of the Albert Healy Clan
And the years that they've been through.

Now it started at the turn of the century,
May second, eighteen ninety-two, on the dot.
That a red-haired, blue-eyed cherub
Was born to John Healy's at Lott.

He was loved by his sisters,
Vyna, Allie and Mae
Lawrence and Clarence endured the child
Who always got in the way.

Can't you see him running around whistling and singing his song
Watching the older ones work the farm
As he went tagging along.

It wasn't long 'til he joined the throng
of workers on the Healy Land
Doing his share and loving all
Of that merry family clan.

School days were limited
To the winter months of snow
Planting crops and Harvesting,
Took first place you know.

He never passed out of
Old Lott School
Never took the final test,
But returned each fall
To join his friends he loved the very best.

It was here that he met Mary
She was his childhood sweetheart
On May 3, 1913 they married

Promising never to part.

They lived on the back eighty
Close to Mom and Dad;
Clearing stumps with dynamite
Feeding stock and tilling the land.

Three children were born to them
Del in 1914, Gerald 1916 and Wilma in 1920.
They were supposed to bring heaven on earth
But the capers they pulled were plenty.

The farm was not all he'd hoped it to be
So he looked for profitable work;
With his family he joined Lawrence and Violet in Flint
Never his duties to shirk.

For a few short years
The industrial boom was strong,
But then the depression came
And everything went wrong.

So he gathered his family all
Headed back to the old hemestead
Didn't have a lot of money,
But plenty of food, clothes and a place to lay his head.

The many joyous times we had
Can never all be told
But the memories of those loving hours
Are treasured more than gold.

One by one each child stepped out,
They left the cherished nest,
Remembering lessons Mom and Dad had taught,
They strove to do their best.

That Family that started out as five
Has grown to Thirty-three.
They've scattered in the years gone by
Throughout this big country.

From Kansas and Oklahoma
To North Carolina's Coast,

Georgia, Ohio and Arkansas,
But Michigan claims the most.

Each earns his living in his own way:
Nurses, Doctor, Therapist, Accountants and Salesmen, too.
Machinists, Engineers and Teachers
Supervisors to name a few.

Albert and Mary have long since gone
To that better place beyond
But we honor them today
At the Healy Reunion, of which they were so fond.

Violet Evelyn Healy Brintnell

1894-1959

Violet Evelyn Healy Brintnell Family

(When Violet Evelyn Healy received her birth certificate, she had no middle name or initial. She had always thought it was Evelyn.)

I don't know too much about her "growing-up" life except she liked to ice skate on the creek behind the house. I think she was not too healthy -- she was out of school for a year -- said it was anemia.

She attended Ferris Institute in Big Rapids -- don't know how long, but her picture, and Aunt Winnie's, are in the 1916 year book under "Junior Class" pictures.

If she taught school in Glennie, I don't know about it, but she did teach in East Twining, Michigan for two years. While she was there she stayed at Dad's sisters, Lizzie Mosher, and met Dad while staying there.

She married Edwin E. Brintnell on May 11, 1919 at the homestead in Glennie and moved to Flint, Michigan where Dad had a job at Buick Motor Division. They had one daughter, Novelda Irene, born October 7, 1920.

Violet was very faithful at North Baptist Church where she taught Sunday School for many, many years and although she never had a piano lesson, she often played the piano for the primary Department when needed, and did a good job!

They had a home built at 625 E. Eldridge Avenue, in Flint and moved in on May 15, 1926 and she lived there the rest of her life.

There was always someone "boarding" or staying with them, brothers down from up North and working in the factory; dad's father; John Ginder and others.

Some of our memories:

She loved her family, especially her two granddaughters. She wouldn't even go to Florida for the winter and leave us, and she got along super with her son-in-law, Perry Miller.

She loved to shop with me.

She loved the reunions and the relatives.

She loved "hard" candy and always had some in a dish on the buffet.

She always had a big roast beef dinner on Sunday for us.

She had a massive heart attack in April, 1958 and was in the hospital for a month. On September 17, 1959 her heart stopped on the operating table while having a gall bladder surgery at the age of 65. She is buried in Sunset Hills Cemetery in Flint. Section 10-Lot E262.

Submitted by her daughter, Novelda Miller.

Note: I remember Aunt Violet as a stylish sweet lady from the city. She came to see us every summer and was always so very kind. I stayed with her when I first went to Emerson Junior High School. She was always sewing beautiful dresses for Novelda and I. Her tatting always intrigued me. According to the records in Glennie, She taught at least one year in the Curtis Township schools.

John Herbert Healy

1896-1974

John Herbert Healy Family

John Herbert Healy was born on March 15, 1896, the twelfth of thirteen children. He grew up on the family farm near Glennie, Michigan. After completing the sixth grade in school, he began helping his father with the farm on a full-time basis. When World War I came to America he was too short to pass his induction physical. Finally the army got desparate enough to take him, but as he and a group of other young men from the Glennie area were on their way to the induction center, armistice was declared and John missed his chance to experience military life. He enjoyed the life of an eligible young bachelor for several years before deciding that Gladys Bartle was the girl for him. Gladys N. Bartle was born on September 6, 1903 in Calumet, Michigan in the Copper country of the Upper Peninsula. The family moved to the Glennie area in 1913 and eventually John and Gladys met, fell in love, and were married on April 21, 1921.

John decided farm life was not for him and he went looking for some other type of employment. For several years he worked on some of the dams on the Au Sable River. In the midst of the Roaring Twenties the lure of the big city brought them to Detroit to seek their fortune. John got a job at the Briggs Manufacturing Company on the automobile assembly line, and Gladys went to work at the National Biscuit Company. With the stock market crash in 1929 and the onset of the depression, life in the city became rather trying. In order to bring in some money this period they tried various things such as raising canaries and taking in laundry.

When Robert Edward came along on January 2, 1936, they were living at 3793 Manistique on the far east side of Detroit. With the upturn in the economy that accompanied World War II things began to look up for the Healy family. James Thomas was born on October 29, 1946 and John and Gladys enfoyed a number of good years on Manistique as the boys grew up and Bob married. On September 15, 1965, four months after the birth of their first grandchild, Jonathan Edward, Gladys died after a bout with cancer.

Five years later, in August of 1970, John married Rose Blain and they lived in the house on Manistique another year before moving to Largo, Florida. In Largo they lived in a new mobile home in a beautiful new mobile home park. Unfortunately, John's long-standing kidney problems began to catch up with him and he passed away on September 27, 1974.

Clara Winifred Healy Stringer Snider

1899-1980

Clara Winifred Healy Stringer Snider Family

Winnie, as she was called, was born in Lott, Michigan and attended Lott, School. She went to Ferris Institute and received her teaching certificate. She taught school in the area. Her daughter, Thelma, wrote, "Mom and Dad married on January 21, 1921 at Harrisville, Michigan. Vyne and John Rushman stood as witnesses. They lived on the Stringer farm for a year, and she taught school at Killmaster. They moved to Flint where Dad worked on construction of the Armory until he started to work on the Grand Trunk Railroad. They had a daughter that lived only a few minutes. A year later they had a son, Lloyd. They moved back to Killmaster where Dad went back to farming and Mother returned to teaching in 1926 or 27. When Mr. Stringer died they bought the farm. A daughter, Thelma, was born to them in 1932. They lived in Killmaster until 1940 when Dad went to Detroit and worked for Pier Marquette Railroad. The family stayed behind. Lloyd graduated and was drafted into service of World War II. They then moved to East Tawas in 1942 where Dad worked on the Detroit-Mackinaw Railroad for two years, then transferred to Alpena in 1944 where he worked until he had a severe heart attack in 1956 and was forced into retirement. They then built and ran the Mikado Feed Store until his death on August 6, 1963. Mother sold the store and married Fred Snider on November 12, 1966 and moved to Lachine, Michigan. Fred died on January 8, 1969. Mother moved to Alpena where she lived until her death on December 4, 1980."

The Family Tree

By Thelma Christain

In eighteen-hundred and eighty-two
A couple were married under the skies of blue
Loving and toiling as newlyweds should
Moved in a cabin by the side of the woods.

John and Clarissia as good as could be
Longed for a boy to bounce on their knee
Or a cute little girl with eyes of blue
Soon their dreams were about to come true.

It was in the year of "83"
That Clarence began the family tree
With Pride in their eyes and a heart full of Joy
They finally had their baby boy.

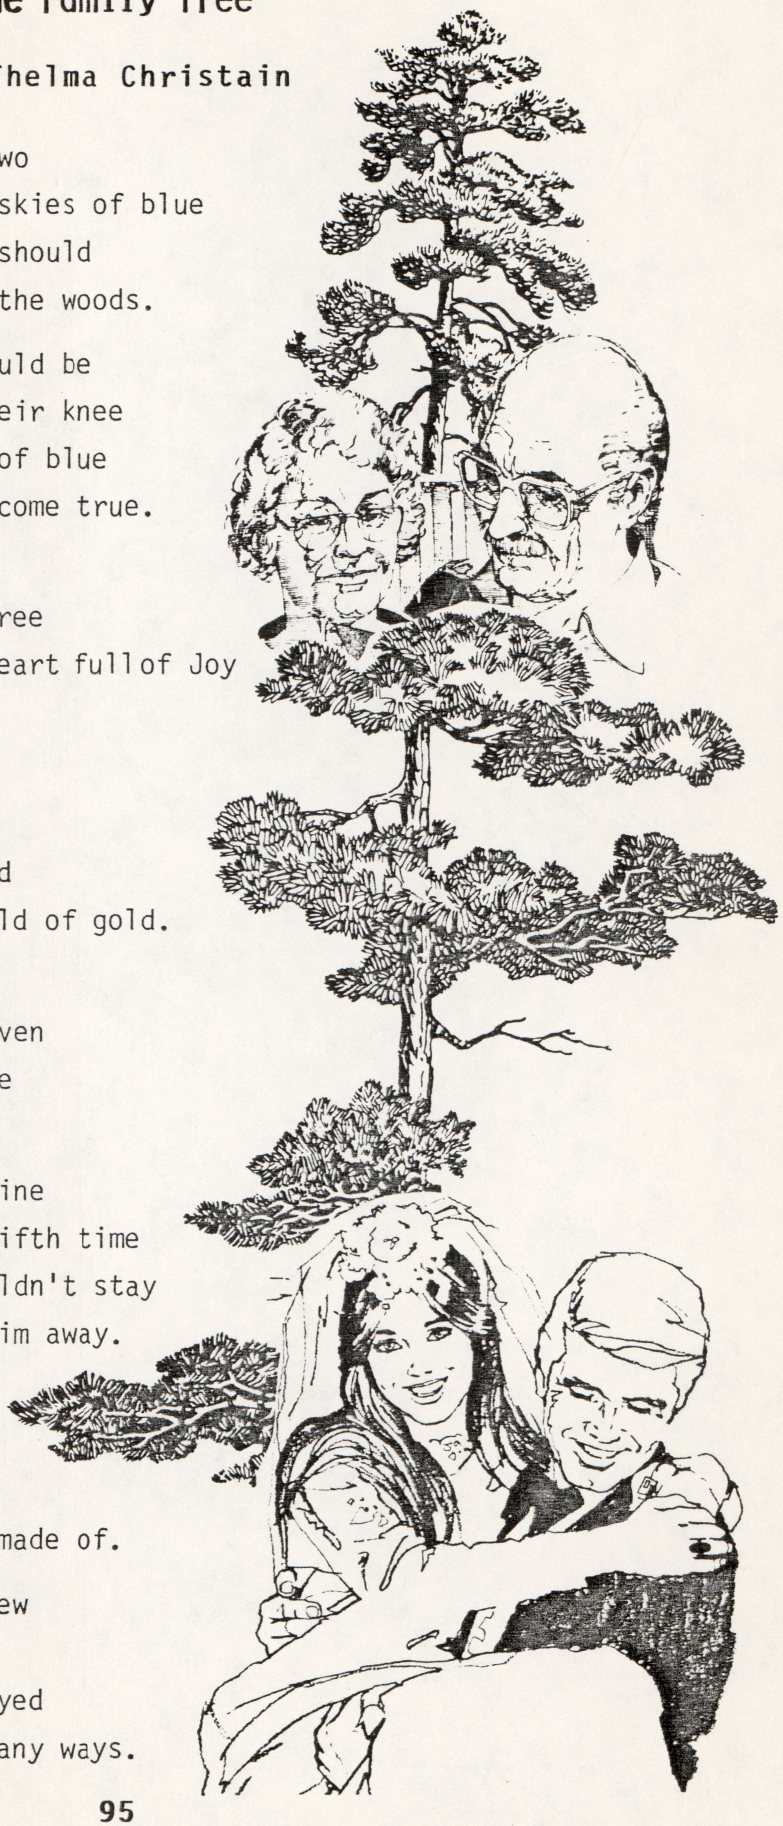
Then the year of "84"
Mae came knocking at their door
A little girl to love and to hold
More precious to them than a world of gold.

In "85" and "87"
Laurence and Allie came from heaven
Two little angles sent from above
Were welcomed into arms of love.

In eighteen-hundred and eighty-nine
The stork made a visit for the fifth time
Lesle they named him, but he couldn't stay
In six brief months God called him away.

1890 and in their prime
Into the world came baby Vyne
A proud possession a gem of love
Precious things that dreams are made of.

As time went by and hours were few
Albert came in "92"
A good little boy who always obeyed
Brought so much happiness in so many ways.



Mother thought she'ed like some more
So Violet came in "94"
With hair of red and eyes of blue
Turned up nose and freckles too.

And then there's John we can't forget
Who made the scene in "96"
A great little boy, a fine little lad
All the world to Mother and Dad.

To add to their happiness and make things devine
Winnie came in "99"
With dimpled cheeks and eyes that shone
Another girl to call their own.

1904 was a happy year
Laura was born, a sweet little dear
The Healy name was now complete
Though Laura's life was short but sweet.

As years went by and they all grew
Brought joy to their hearts and sorrow too
With nine pairs of feet and nine pairs of hands
Can you imagine the troubles they had?

They've scattered the country far and wide
From Oklahoma to the New York side
They meet each year on a special day
With potluck lunch and a program gay.

Mom and Dad and the children they loved
God has called to their home up above
When we step from this earth to heaven so fair
We'll all meet again and say "Good morning" up there.

As I stand here upon the floor
I thank the lord that I was born
I'm very happy and proud to be
Just a twig on the family tree.

Memory Lane

By Thelma E. Christian

Grandma and grandpa married in the year of "82"
Sharing the good times and many sorrows too
Living in a cabin by the side of the woods
Started their family like most couples should.

Moving to a home at a place called Lott
With a church and school on the next plot
Running a post office and buying a store
Nine children to raise who would ask more.

Forty-three years together, good and bad and rain and shine
The stairway up to heaven they did slowly climb
In "25" with the sunset setting or'e the hilltop far away
Filling the land with beauty at the end of one sad day.

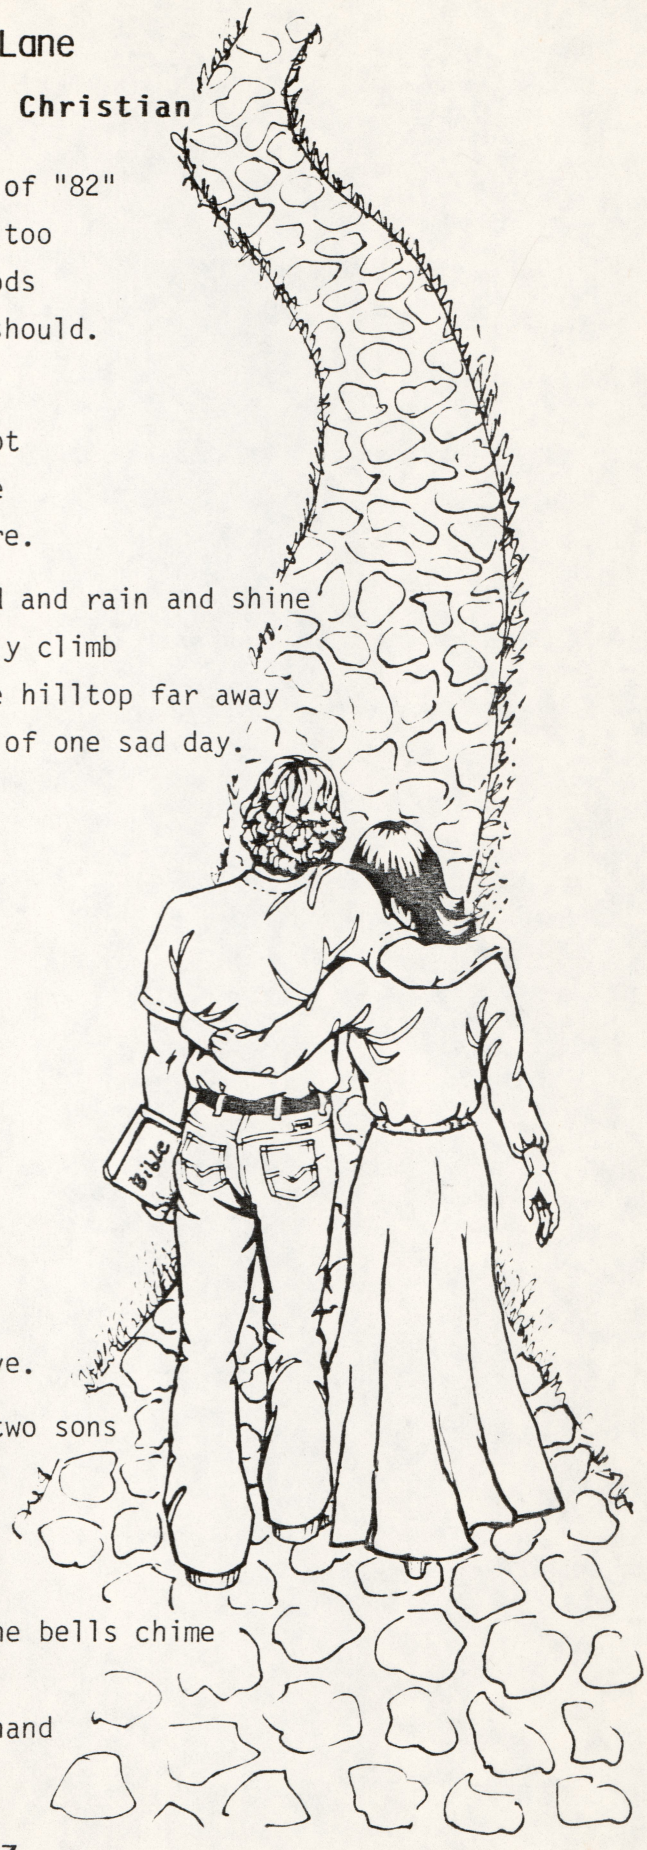
She reached the top at the pearly gate
When grandma died at age 58
Joining two babies that went on before
Leslie in "89" and Laura in "04".

1926 Allie left to join her mother
Her little sister and little brother
Seven young children she left behind
At the early age of 39.

1928 at age 84
Grandpa met grandma at heavens door
They met with their loved ones above
Once more they started the circle of love.

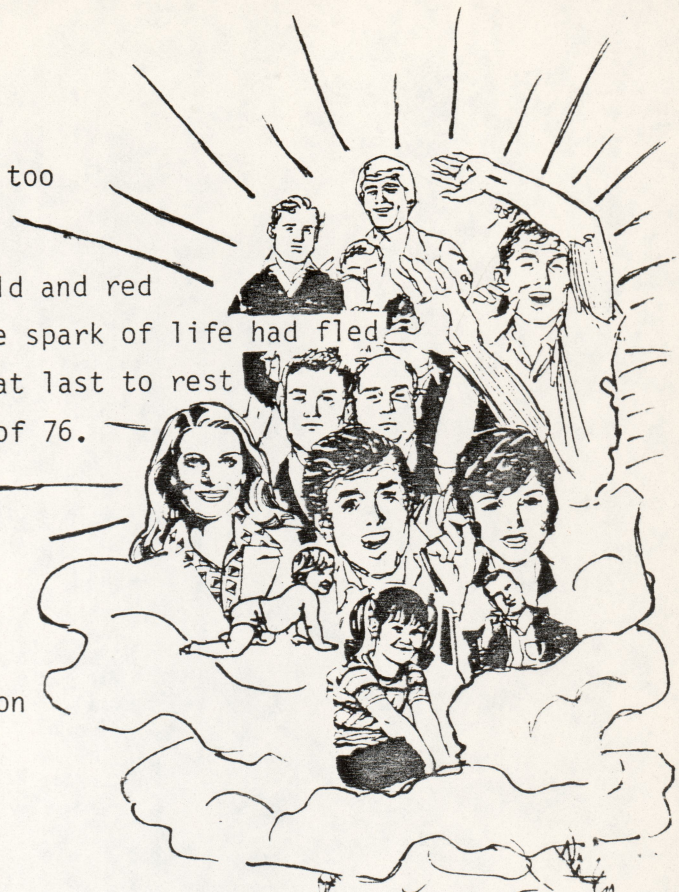
With five lovely daughters, a wife and two sons
Lawrence passed away in "51
Lois, a daughter who died in her prime
He met again at age 65.

Violet left this world when she heard the bells chime
At age 65 in the year "59"
A daughter she left with a wave of the hand
As she wandered into an unknown land.



A bud gave birth to a rose that night
When Mae said goodbye at 78
Her son was there and two grand-daughters too
She left them all in "62".

In the year "68" while the leaves were gold and red
Albert left two sons and a daughter as the spark of life had fled
His work on earth was finished, his soul at last to rest
Into God's kingdom he entered at the age of 76.



When John reached the age of 78
St. Peter met him at the pearly gate
Two great sons that he adored
He said goodbye in "74".

Clarence said goodbye to a daughter and son
When the flowers were in blossom
The trees were all in bud
In the spring of "74" at the age of 91.

1980 was another sad year when three sons and a daughter Vyne called near
They said goodbye with a heart that was heavy and eyes full of tears
At age 90 years she left this home
To join the others around heavens throne.

It was just three years later when Jack Frost was at the door
Winnie left to join the others that had gone on before
The baby was gone at age 81
Two children she left a daughter and son.

Grandma and Grandpa and the children they loved
God has called to their home up above
As they gather around with voices that's golden
Singing together "The Circle Is Unbroken".

We have lived and loved together thru many changing years
We have shared each others gladness and wept each others tears
When our work on earth has ended and we reach that distant shore
May we join the choir singing we'll be together evermore.

I Remember Grandma and Grandpa

By Delamere Healy

January 1984

My recollection of my Grandmother and Grandfather Healy are rather limited and somewhat vague. They were the people who lived over the hill and were my father's parents. Not really that cold because they did look after us, Wilma, Gerald and myself, in a rather remote way. I do not remember them holding us in their arms and telling us they loved us or that we were good Kids. I guess feelings in those days were a commodity which most folks did not deal with too openly.

I know they must have cared about us because they watched to make sure we survived the cold trips to school in the winter. There was an unwritten agreement that mother would watch us from the house to the top of the hill, (the property line between our farm and Grandpa Healy's place,) Grandma Healy would keep an eye on us as we crossed the open field and walked and played along the zig zag fence row to the creek, then up the hill to the house. Strange as it may seem, I don't remember going into the house after we got there.

Now, on the way home from school that was different. We would stop at Grandpa Healy's and go in the house. We would be treated to apples, which had been stored in the cellar, (basement.) As I recall, there were barrels and barrels of apples. Snow apples, Wolf-for-evers (big ones), Russets, Hubberson Nunsuch, Pippins and others that I can not remember. In later years I found out that the cellar under the house wasn't really as spacious as I had remembered and possibly there weren't that many apples either.

I also remember that I cut my forehead while sliding down the hill in back of the school. The hill was covered with ice, which made an ideal place to slide down the hill, under the fence and along the creek. The only catch was I hit the fence and was knocked out cold and was bleeding like a stuck pig. The teacher took me to my grandmother's house about three hundred yards away. By the time we got there I suppose I was awake and crying bloody murder. My Grandmother took over right then. I remember her treatment was to use a cold "Silver" table knife and iron the skin back in place. This also stopped the bleeding. She said that by using the "Silver" knife there would be no scar. The cut wasn't sewn up and not much of a scar ever developed.

It seem that most of my memories are from the winter season, I really don't know what happened to them, Grandpa and Grandma, or us during the summer months.

I have a recall of only two dinners at my grandmother's house. I guess the reason was that at both of these dinners I was in trouble. The first time was when I found a cherry pit in the pie and used a spoon to propell it from my mouth, the full length of the table. It hit my aunt Winnie in the face. The other memorable time was when my grandmother served apple sauce as desert. Of course I had to be the one to find a worm in the apple sauce. I not only found it, I wanted everyone to know I had found it. My mother tried to "Shush" me but I just kept on. I'm not sure but I think dad settled my hash.

When I stop and think about it, maybe they had good reason for not telling us we were "Good Kids."

"Healy Recipes"

On the suggestion of my brother, Del, I have taken the liberty to include several recipes that my mother used to say were strickly "Healy recipes". ones she made to please my Dad.

Wilma

Pork English Pasty

Take about a pound of Salt Pork. Remove the rind and freshen if very salty. It should be well streaked with lean. Cut it in small chunks about the size of a walnut. Chop up one medium onion. Boil in water, enough to cover it for about an hour. Then add six potatoes cubed; cook until they are almost done. Pour this in a baking pan.

Make the following dough:

About two cups of flour, ½ teaspoon of salt, 2 level teaspoons of baking powder, 1 tablespoon of butter, enough cold milk to make a stiff dough. (I'd say about a cup.) Rub the butter between the thumb and fingers to make it into fine flakes, add the milk gradually, until the whole is a light spongy mass. Turn on a well floured board and press out with hands to one inch thick. Place over the pork and potato and onion mixture. Bake in a medium oven until dough is baked through.

Stewed Beef and Dumplings

Mother always used a large can of Beef. However, because canning meat is a thing of the past, you would brown stewing meat and add seasoning and a little water. Cook slowly on top of the stove until it is tender. Add more broth if need be.

Make Dumplings:

Two cups of flour,
One-half teaspoon of salt,
Two teaspoons of baking powder,
Mix together well.
Add one cup of cream.

Mix well and drop by spoonfuls into the boiling stew. Cover tight and do not open for ten minutes, then they should be done.

The dumplings were not served with gravy, but with a sour sauce. You combine 1 cup of sugar and ½ cup of vinegar and spoon it over the dumplings at the table.

Suet Pudding

1 cup of suet (ground fine)
½ cup of brown sugar, well packed
½ cup of molasses
2 eggs beaten
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup raisins
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

Mix suet, molasses and eggs. Add dry ingredients alternating with milk.
Add raisins and mix thoroughly. Pour into a bag. Leave room to expand. Tie firmly. In later years, my mother used well greased coffee cans. She did not fill them over 2/3's full.
Place the bag or cans in a large pan of boiling water, covered. Use low heat after steam starts to escape. Steam for at least three hours. Keep even water depth by adding more hot water when necessary.

Serve with sweet or sour sauce.

Mother used Sour Sauce.

Two cups of brown sugar
one cup of water
Bring to a boil. Add one tablespoon of cornstarch, mixed with ¼ cup of water. Add a big chunk of butter and 2 tablespoons of vinegar.

Cottage Cheese

(You can't buy it in the store like this!)

Set a pail or pan of thick sour milk on top of the range and heat until its heated through. Let it stand at that temperature for an hour or more, until the whey is well separated and the curd feels firm all the way through. Turn gently on to a coarse thin cloth and hang up to drain for several hours. Turn from the bag and mix salt, pepper and sweet cream through the mixture.

Baked Custard

Two cups of milk, that has been scalded
Three eggs
Four tablespoons sugar
Pinch of salt
Dash of vanilla

Scald the milk. Mix the sugar, eggs, salt and flavoring and combine with milk. Pour into a baking dish, sprinkle with nutmeg. Place in a slow oven and bake until firm. A knife blade run into the center of the custard will come out clean.

Baked Beans

About three cups of navy beans. Pick over the beans carefully and soak overnight. In the morning, cover them with water and bring to a boil. Add one teaspoon of soda. Stir and drain. Again recover with water and boil about ½ hour. Take a spoonful and blow on them; if the skin curls back, they are done. Put them in a colander and pour a dipper of cold water through them. Take a large earthen pot or casserole and add part of the beans then add a half pound of salt pork. (The pork should be washed with hot water and gashed across the top.) Fill the pot with the rest of the beans. Cover with strips of salt pork. Take one teaspoon of salt, pinch of dry mustard and 1 tablespoon of molasses disolved in hot water. Pour over the beans. Bake in a slow oven at least four hours. When the water cooks away add more.

Donuts

Grandma, Mary Zoe DeCoste Healy, taught her granddaughter, Dorothy Jean Healy, this verse so she could remember the recipe for grandmothers donuts.

A cup of sugar,
A cup of milk,
Two eggs beaten fine as silk.
Baking powder, teaspoons two,
Spices, nutmeg will do,
Add six cups of flour too.

Roll out and cut, then fry in hot grease.

Note:

Dorothy Jean discovered that corn fritters can be made by adding corn to this recipe before rolling it out to be cut.

Bread Recipe

To one quart of lukewarm water add two cakes of compressed yeast and stir until it is completely disolved, then add one teaspoonful of salt and three tablespoons of sugar. Add two cups of flour and stir well.

Put ten cups of flour on a board. Make a well and pour the above mixture in the center. Knead the dough, adding the flour from the board, until it becomes smooth and elastic and ceases to stick to the fingers. Then put it in a well greased bowl, brush lightly with melted butter, cover with a bread towel and set to rise in a warm place for two hours, or until light.

As soon as the dough is light, knead well and again place in a bowl, covering it as before and set for another rising of an hour, or until light.

As soon as the dough is light this second time, form it gently into loaves or rolls, place in greased pans, brush with melted butter. Cover again with the towl and let it stand for one and one-half hours and then bake. When they are nearly ready to bake, scatter a spoon of flour on a piece of paper and set it in the oven; if it takes a good color in five minutes the oven is right; it should be quite brown. When loaves are baked the heat should be slightly increased for ten minutes, then gradually reduced. Watch the oven range closely. In forty or fifty minutes the loaf will shrink somewhat from the pan. It should have an evenly brown crust. Tap the bottom, if it sounds hollow it is done.

Note: You may use half milk and half water. The milk must be scalded. Also adding two tablespoons of melted lard gives it a different texture.

To make the famous sweet rolls of Mary Healy, you increase the sugar to four tablespoonsful. When the rolls are baked you make a mixture of ½ cup of sugar and ½ cup of butter. With a clean cloth you spread this over the hot rolls.

The first school at Lott was a log building. It was used for a church as well as a school. A new school was built behind the old log school in 1907. The first teacher in the new school was Ella Spencer. Other teachers who taught later were: Vina Healy and Winnifred Healy. Wilma Healy, daughter of Albert Healy, taught there much later.
